WELCOME TO IIPR

Indian Institute of Psychology and Research (IIPR) is a premier college in Bangalore that offers postgraduate courses in Psychology and undergraduate courses with Psychology as one of the major subjects alongside other core subjects. The college is affiliated to Bengaluru City University (BCU) which is one among the universities trifurcated from Bangalore university.

IIPR was established in 2004, with the objective of bringing together passionate academicians, practitioners and students, offering them a platform for serious academic pursuit and research initiatives in the field of Psychology and other disciplines of Social Sciences. The outcome of this endeavor has been quality contributions to the various interdisciplinary fields of Social Sciences and outreach programmes for the well-being of the society.

Management of IIPR

IIPR is managed by the Franciscan group of fathers belonging to the Order of Friars Minor (OFM) - a Catholic religious order. IIPR is a unit of one of their Non-Profit Charitable Society Sarvodaya Seva Sangha (SSS) established in the year 1967 in Bangalore.

Inspired by the founder of the OFM congregation St. Francis of Assisi, SSS has been reaching out to the deprived sections of the society, rendering its services to people all over India through various institutions, support centers, programmes and initiatives.

SSS has got the right blend of resources with its dedicated Governing Council to navigate IIPR in the field of higher education. The Governing Council of IIPR has eminent members from the board of management, qualified academicians & practitioners with vast experience, industry experts and nominees from the academic council of the university. The vision, planning and meticulous execution of the various initiatives has made IIPR one of its kind for quality education.

Vision and Mission of IIPR

Vision: Education with Character – Igniting Minds, Illumining Society.

IIPR is committed to providing quality education that enriches lives by focusing on character building and the holistic development of students. All our efforts converge at 'Igniting' the young minds with wisdom and knowledge so that they go out to 'Illumine' the society around them.

Mission:

- Providing a platform for students to exchange ideas with academicians, practitioners and fellow scholars
- Promoting holistic development of students and preparing them to face life as confident and responsible citizens with uncompromising integrity and character.
- Scientifically integrating various disciplines of social sciences and principles of Psychology to contribute to the welfare of the individual, family and society.

IIPR Campus

The resoundingly serene and positively energizing ambience of IIPR facilitates learning and growth of the intellectual spirit. The spacious and beautiful campus of IIPR is surrounded by serene greenery in the midst of the city and open spaces providing a refreshing environment is the landmark of this institute.

The campus is a favored location for students with its proximity to other premier educational institutes, good transport systems providing connectivity from every part of Bangalore, shopping malls, eateries, excellent accommodation facilities, hospitals, bookstores and stationery stores, to name a few; all these are at a stone's throw away from the institute. IIPR assures the students of a truly enriching learning environment in its campus and gives the promise of being an alma mater which they would proudly behold as a benchmark for excellence.

Infrastructure and Classroom

IIPR campus has state of the art infrastructure facilities conducive for an optimal learning environment. Spacious classrooms equipped with multimedia facilities, campus Wi-Fi access for laptops and mobile phones, open playground and parking facilities are some of the highlights of the campus facilities available for student use.

Library and Laboratory

IIPR takes pride in its constantly updated library and laboratory which makes it an ideal platform for students to embark upon their professional journey. IIPR Library has a good collection of printed as well as electronic resources which include Books, Journals, Online Databases, CDs/DVDs, e-books, ejournals, reports, course materials, dissertations etc. Access to online journals through databases such as NLIST and NDL makes it convenient for the students to avail the latest research and current trends in the field of their interest.

Psychology laboratory and Media labs are places where students apply their theoretical knowledge into tests by practicing and developing the required skills under faculty supervision. Being equipped with the best in class instruments and assessment tools covering various branches of psychology, practical classes are the most sought after for its hands-on training in skill development.

Availability of media labs for journalism students equipped with facilities to practice photography, audio-video recording and editing technology is an added attraction for students.

Canteen

A beautiful and refreshing campus cafeteria "Seekers' Café" – caters to the students requirements by providing them with healthy and nutritious food at subsidized rates. The cafeteria is the most favored 'hang-out' location in the campus for group studies to get-togethers.

Curriculum and Teaching

IIPR follows the NEP curriculum of Bangalore City University for undergraduate and postgraduate courses. The faculty use hands-on methodology in teaching and training students making learning an experiential process. The teachers aim to play the role of educators and mentors going way beyond the traditional methods of imparting knowledge. Students are encouraged to forge their path, take legitimate risks, make mistakes and learn, ask questions and find answers thereby promoting a scientific temper.

The academic fervour, the quality of teaching - learning process bare witness to the astonishing results that the students have been procuring in university examinations. On an average close to 90 to 95 percent of our students secure first class results with an equally high number of 'distinctions' and 'exemplary' results. Students of the Post graduate courses have been securing nearly 7-8 ranks out of the 10 ranks awarded in the university examinations.

Value Added Programmes (VAP) and Academic Enrichment Programmes (AEP):

In addition to the prescribed curriculum, IIPR offers VAPs and AEPs to the interested advanced learners to optimize their potential. Students are given extensive support and encouragement to attend and present papers at workshops, seminars, symposia, conferences to facilitate better learning and placement opportunities. VAPs and AEPs are intended to make the student abreast with current affairs and latest developments in the field of their interest.

Extra-Curricular (ECA) and Co-Curricular (CC) activities:

ECA and Co-curricular activities are incorporated into the campus life with a one hour every week dedicated for the same to promote well-rounded and holistic growth of the students. It offers a platform for students to foster leadership, teamwork, event management skills and provides opportunities for display of a wide array of their skills and talents.

Students Assistance Programmes:

Bridge courses, remedial teaching and student assistance programs are offered to those students who require additional personal attention.

Assistance for internship and placement is provided through the placement cell with the help of a wide network of associated NGOs, Hospitals, Clinics, Counselling Centres, Rehabilitation centres and Organizations. Etc.

College uses user friendly technical interface and Learning Management Systems(LMS) such as CAMU, Google classroom, and Google education apps for updating information related to student performance, assignment submissions, resource materials sharing, attendance and regularity, library books issue and return reminders, important events and announcements from college, sharing of photo gallery etc. Both the student and parent can access all this information.

Outreach Programmes:

Adhering to our vision of 'Igniting Minds and Illumining Society' students are made to reach out to the deprived sections of the society through field visits, extension activities by organising awareness drives, short workshops, counselling services, etc.

Faculty

IIPR takes pride in the quality of its faculty who share the vision of imparting 'Education with Character'. The academically qualified and professionally experienced faculty use teaching pedagogy that are supplemented with debates, discussions, activities, assignments and innovative evaluation strategies, that have set a benchmark in teaching. IIPR also has eminent adjunct and visiting faculty who add their expertise from academia and industry into the classes. In addition to the routine teaching and learning process, the faculty provides mentoring and counselling services, personal attention and guidance to students. Mentorship is not just an exercise at IIPR, it is a passion which aims to bring out the best in each student, teaming faculty and students towards holistic growth.
